Players To 'Tame Shrew' Next Week

When the curtain rises for "The Taming of the Shrew" in the Waverly high school auditorium next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8 p. m., the audiences will find themselves taken back several centuries to Italy.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is the first drama by Shakespeare to be presented by the Warburg players this year. It is a satirical comedy with the conflict for superiority between male and female highlighting the plot.

Katherina, the Shrew of the play, is portrayed by Judy Vogel, sophomore, with Marjorie Wueb-ben, sophomore, as understudy. She is the eldest daughter of Baptista, a rich gentleman of Padua, played by Francis Neumann, junior. Being a lady of an unbecom- ingly spiteful and fiery temper she is known in Padua by no other name than Katherina, the untamed shrew.

Baptista Defers Consent.

It seemed very unlikely that any gentleman would ever be permitted to marry the shrew, so to marry this lady. Therefore, Baptista defers his consent to many suitors. Among them is Katherina's gentle sister, Bianca. Baptista puts off all Bianca's suitors with the excuse that when the eldest sister is married, they will have free leave to address Bianca. The part of Bianca is portrayed by Dorothy Dahlstrom, junior, with Helen Remmers, sophomore, as understudy.

However, it happens that a gentleman named Petruchio, played by George Roleder, junior, comes to Padua purposely to look for a wife. Not being discouraged by reports of Katherina's temper, and not being able to teach and discipline her, he resolves to marry her and tame her into a meek and obedient wife.

Others In Cast Named.

Others in the cast include the following:

Robert Gronlund, Gerald Her-ber, Carl Scheffel, Howard Schaefer, seniors; Robert Ger-mer, Gerry Koehler, Elvin Berg-stresser, Roland Pfaff, juniors; Arnold Imbreck, and Carol Schick, sophomores; Robert Snyder, Fred Moberg, Richard Swensen, Edward Roleder, freshmen; and Leitch as also assistant director.

"Under the direction of Ray-mond Wilderman, head of the drama department, the cast and production staff are going all out to make the play a success," stated Leitch, co-director, general publicity manager.

"This is the first time it has been attempted to present a play here on three successive nights, but a full house is expected each night," added Leitch. "High schools in surrounding towns have been invited and response has been good."

Costuming Big Feature.

Costuming will be one of the big features of the play with elaborate, gay and colorful costumes being made by Miss Hazel Snyder, head of the home economics department, and Dorothy Gross, senior. Wardrobe mistress is Jean Lempe, junior.

At the department, under the direction of Miss Helen Wright, head, has assisted dramatics club members in constructing and painting the flats.

Serving as business manager in charge of ticket sales is Esther Blum, senior. Loren Nolting, freshman, is house manager in charge of reserved seats.

General publicity manager is Claude Grelling, sophomore, with Jean Becker and Janice Fries, sophomores, assisting with the advertising.

Tickets for the play are on sale between 1 and 4 p. m. on Saturday in the Warburg hall.

Wagner, Mertz First At 'Masquerade Brawl'

Just in from the farm to win first prize at the Saturday evening masquerade were Hilda Mertz, freshman, and Albert Wagner, senior, pictured on the right. Slightly identical was Robert (Dude) Gronlund, senior, who was accompanied to the brawl by the bearded lady, Dorothy Dahlstrom, junior.

Albert Wagner, senior, and Hilda Mertz, freshman, received first prize as the best-dressed couple at the "Masquerade Brawl" sponsored by Pi Sigma in the gymnasium Saturday evening.

About a hundred Warburg students attended the girl-squash-boy party, which featured square dancing called by Raymond Norheim, history instructor. Old-time music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Howe, a farm couple from near Clarksville.

Award for the best-dressed man went to Elwyn Hillmer, sophomore, while Katherine Smith, sophomore, won the prize for the best-dressed woman. During the intermission Robert Gronlund, senior, read a ghost story, "The Tell-Tale Heart" by Edgar Allan Poe.

Chairman of committees in charge of the masquerade were Barbara Becker, senior, and Magdalene Begunne, Marjorie Walker and Lois Snyder, sophomores. The Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Schick were costume judges.

The ALC for the Commission on Younger Churches and Orphaned Missions of the American Lutheran church.

Dr. Siekes has another relationship with Warburg college. Two of his family, Ulrich and Betty, both freshmen, are attending college here.

Edith Baehr, senior parish worker from Bethany, Mo., is one of the new students in the Warburg choir for the fourth consecutive year. Chosen this year as an attendant of the Homecoming queen, she repeated the honor given her during the 1947 Homecoming festivities. A former member of Student Senate and band, Edith is kept busy this year as society editor of the TRUMPET and as a member of choir, Pi Sigma and Phebes.

Barbara Becker Named.

Barbara Becker, senior, in being elected to "Who's Who" repeats an accomplishment of last year. A native of Fond du Lac, Wis., she was 1947 Homecoming queen, and was chosen as a member of the queen's court this year.

While a junior, "Bobbie" was president of the Pep club and a member of Student Senate. Barbara also has been active in dramatics, a member of the Fortress staff, and this year as a member of Pi Sigma, Pep club and the Lutheran Student association.

Another native of Wisconsin is Mel Bergin, married veteran taking a pre-senior course on campus. President of Chi Rho, a biological organization on Mel. Last year he was vice-president of Chi Rho, member of Student Senate and member of the Artist Series committee. Working hard to graduate in record time this spring, Mel still finds time to be active in Chi Rho and in LSA.

Max Fleisher, ex-GI majoring in business administration, comes to Warburg from Strawberry Point. Well known to students last year as business manager of the Fortress and hard-hitting left fielder of the baseball team, Max was this year chosen president of the North Hall dormitory council and publicity chairman for Homecoming. In his spare moments he finds time to take part in the activities of "WV" club and Future Teachers.

Activities Impressive.

Activities of Robert Gronlund, pre-the from Duluth, Minn., are particularly impressive in view of the fact that he came to Warburg just last year from the University of Minnesota Duluth Branch. Elected to Student Senate last spring, Bob was chosen vice-president of the student body this fall.

Appearing in two major play productions, "Papa Is All" and "Sun Bonnet" and was chosen this year president of the Warburg Players.

Rounding out his activities, Bob is active in the G. R. sports writer for the News Bureau and handled the public address system at football games.

Active both on and off campus is Kenneth Priebe, pre-the-halling from Waseca, Minn. He is best known as International Luther League president. Meetings and speaking engagements in the latter field will take a great deal of his time, but he has still found time to be active in Warburg Players, Passavant club, Chi Rho and LSA.

Needing no introduction to Warburg students is David Rath, ex-GI and sociology major from Jackson, Wis. Elected student body president in last year's spirited campaign, Dave has been busy this year handling the origins of student government. Introduced into this type of work as a member of Student Senate his freshman year, he was also active in football, basketball and band. In addition to his student prexy job this year, Dave is a Charter member of the Political Discussion club.

Knights Trim Parsons In Finale

By Adam Melchner

Wartburg Knights ended their 1948 gridiron season by trimming the Wildcats of Parsons college 31-26 in an Armistice day contest here Thursday afternoon in as thrilling a game as one could want to witness.

It was a battle all the way, with the score being tied at 6-6, 13-13 and 19-19. The Wildcats edged out ahead 26-25, and then the Knights came rolling back to score the winning touchdown in the end.

Paul Bruns was the lad who was in Parsons' hair all afternoon as he turned in a magnificent performance. The Mason City coach as he carried the ball for 172 yards, averaging seven yards per try, and scored three of the Knights' five touchdowns, one on a 45-yard punt. He also was all over on defense, intercepting two Parsons' passes and knocking down several others.

Hanus Among Top

Erv Hanus also continued his consistently good ball kicking. The "Puma Express" Wartburg's leading ground-gainer as he reeled off 93 yards, mostly on straight line plunges.

It was the 93 yard meeting in the history of the two Iowa conference schools, and it was Wartburg's fifth in seven starts, enabled the Knights to finish in third place in the conference behind Dubuque and Upper Iowa, who tied for first, and Central, which has a 3-1 record.

Wartburg started out in the same manner as it did against Upper Iowa, spotting its opponent six yards immediately after the kickoff. The Kelly Greens recovered a Knight fumble on the 11th, and three plays later, a 37-yard pass, Bill Jerome to Lindsay, netted Parsons its first score.

Knights Roar To Tie

With Hanus carrying the brunt of the attack, the Black and Orange came roaring back to tie the count on a 65-yard march. But Parsons went into the field again, 13-6, just before the end of the first period, when Phil Delperie cracked over from the two and then booted the extra point.

Wartburg knotted the count when Matt Klatt star left end, leaped high into the air in a feat to snatch the ball.

Later, Klatt set up the Nelsons' third runner by kicking a punt on the Parsons' 14-yard stripe. Hanus bulled over for the score.

Wildcats Snarl Back

Now the Wildcats came snarling back. They took the kickoff, were set back 10 yards for illegal use of the hands and then Paul Bruns' third runner by Jerome, who went the rest of the way for a TD on a play that went 62 yards. A running play for the extra point failed.

Bruns put the Knights ahead in the third quarter when he slashed through the line, saw he couldn't go any farther and reversed his field. Again he could not find a hole, angled for the sidelines and streaked 48 yards for a touchdown.

Parsons came back to take the lead early in the final period on a 25-yard pass, Jerome to Lawson. Delperie converted.

Wartburg's final and winning

Hanus Among Top

Wartburg's outstanding back this season has been Erv Hanus. The National Collegiate Athletic bureau released figures on the top 26 rushing leaders among small colleges in the nation and the "Puma Express" ranked 19th.

He has gained 487 yards in 198 tries.

Bruns Named 'Player' For UIU Performance

By Bob Snyder

Paul S. Bruns, 22-year-old Junior from Mason City, is the "W" club's nomination for player of the week for his performance in the Upper Iowa game last week. Paul's consistent playing has probably prevented him from being named before.

He is not a flashy player but a steady one; he picks up the extra yard or two needed for a first down, makes many tackles in the backfield and does a fine job of covering territory on pass defense. Whatever a football player is expected to do, Paul does and does well.

Bruns Constant Threat

Against Upper Iowa Thursday night, he was a constant threat with his breakaway dashes with which he almost got away for scores several times. His saving tackle stopped many a Peacock back who was on his way to a touchdown.

He intercepted a pass to stop another Upper Iowa drive.

Paul started out the season as halfback on the defensive squad Coach Melvin Nelson employed at the beginning of the season, but when his offensive potentialities became apparent, he was immediately shifted to the offensive squad. He ranks second in ground gaining on the Knight squad, which ranking is quite an accomplishment when one takes into consideration the fact that he did not do much ball carrying until the season was half over. He stands first on average yard-per-try.

This is only his second year as a football player, the other being in 1943 when he played for the Upper Iowa proved to be the better team at Colwell Thursday night, but it certainly was not 25 points better, as the score shows. Before the game, the morale of the Knights seemed to be high, but it did not stay that way long.

Another thing that hurt us in that game was our passing attack. It has not been strong all season, but it did help to bring needed yardage at opportune times. Stan Weas, who usually does the pitching and has proved the best passer on the squad, was hampered by a bad shoulder. He did connect occasionally, but most of his passes were low and difficult to handle.

Big Ervin Hanus, the "Puma Express," has gained some national recognition, even though he did not win the conference this year. It is the first year that the National Collegiate Athletic bureau has released any figures on small colleges, and Hanus is the only player from the Iowa conference to be recognized as a leader in rushing, passing or total yards.

Grossmann I Wins

Grossmann hat I defeated the trailer camp area yesterday afternoon, 12-0, at North field, to capture the flag football championship.

Policies Restated At Loan Meeting

Restatement of the basic principles and policies of the Student Loan Foundation was the chief business of the board controlling that fund when it met on the Wartburg campus Wednesday, according to the Rev. H. M. Adie of Waterloo, chairman.

Operated to provide financial aid for deserving young people of the American Lutheran church in charge, the Student Loan Foundation is a non-profit loan fund controlled by a board of the A.L.C. Started with a gift of $28,000 from the Wartburg Mission Foundation, the fund now contains $37,000.

Next regular meeting of the Student Loan Foundation board is scheduled for July 21, 1949, at Columbus, Ohio.

Club Discusses Minor Parties At First Political Science Panel

"Are the activities of the minor parties indicative of any future trends in politics?" This was the subject of the Political Science Discussion club meeting Tuesday night in Luther hall.

Progressive, Socialist and Dixiecrat were the three minor, or so-called "third" parties discussed at the panel.

Boiken Presents Socialists.

Bill Boiken, sophomore, presented the main points about the history and platform of the oldest of these, the Socialist party.

"Socialism is a close relative to Communism, the difference being in the way the aims are put to work. Socialism puts its aims to work in a gradual, democratic manner," stated Boiken.

The platform consists of an equal rights bill, democratic-socialist party agreement with the Marshall plan and rejection of the Progressive party.

The laxity of socialism could be remedied by socialism in the event of depression or capitalist collapse," assured Boiken, in running up the future of the party.

Schwartz On Wallace.

Another party, new in name but possibly not in ideals, is the Progressive party, discussed by Hugo Schwartz, senior. This party, led by Henry Wallace, was formed as a protest against both the major political parties of the country.

Formed in late 1947, this group has often been associated with the "Hammer and Sickle," although there is no definite proof of this.

The platform of the party is world peace, based by equal rights and elimination of segregation. It has also professed to be in sympathy with price support, nationalization of railroads and public services. It is against the Marshall plan, draft law and the cold war between the United States and Russia.

"They will continue to fight and try to destroy the lesser of the two major parties," concluded Schwartz.

Stumme Presents Dixiecrats.

Next party discussed was the States Rights, or Dixiecrat, party presented by Wayne Stumme, sophomore. Proclaiming the liberal movement of the Democratic party, this group split from the Democratic party in July 1948.

Its goal was to stop Truman at the convention and in the election. This is a completely right-wing party. It believes in a state's right to interpret laws concerning lynching, poll tax and segregation of races.

Nearly twenty members were present at the panel discussion. Prof. Gerhard Osterberg and R. A. Norton, both of the history and political science department, attended as advisors to the organization. Omar Bondred, junior, served as chairman of the panel.

Dr. Holm To Speak At Chi Rho Society

Dr. B. J. Holm

Dr. Bernard J. Holm, president of Wartburg Seminary, Duquesne, will speak to members of Chi Rho society in chapel hall Sunday at 2 p. m., according to Merrill Herder, vice-president and program chairman.

Dr. Holm will speak on the requirements for entering the seminary, presenting a picture of life there. Sunday evening he will conduct the vespers service, which is in charge of Chi Rho.

Merrill Herder will give a report of the society's recent trip to the seminary. Plans for the annual Christmas candlelight service will be discussed.

Veterans Organize

Wartburg college veterans met in the gym on Thursday evening and organized for the coming year with the election of officers.

Paul S. Bruns, junior, was elected president; Maynard Sautter, vice-president; W. Keith Bassler, secretary, and Evan Clarke, treasurer. The latter three are seniors.

Formal Dissolution Finally Completed For Political Group

Formal dissolution of the Progressive party, student political group active on the campus last year, was completed this week at a meeting of the executive committee.

"Since the original aims of the organization have been completed, it was decided that the group discontinue as a formal organization," stated James Zuehl, senior and president of the party.

Among the original aims of the group which have been put into effect in Wartburg student government were election of student senators by the individual classes, holding monthly student body meetings, publication of Student Senate minutes and automatic membership of class presidents in the Student Senate.

This semester's student body project is R. H. Richter, who the executive committee of the party gave what was left in its treasury to that cause.

Members of the executive committee included Zuehl; Robert Herriott, senior, vice-president; Norman Fintel, sophomore, secretary; Harold Meyer, junior, treasurer; and Dorothy Dahlstrom and George Roletzer, juniors and members-at-large.
